MINING WEEK

Southern Gold

The allure of South Australia's Gawler Craton shows no signs of dimming as juniors continue to seek copper, gold and uranium targets in the wake of the Prominent Hill discovery with explorers all touting "Olympic Dam-style" targets. Rudy Gomez's Carrapateena copper discovery last year has stoked the enthusiasm. Southern Gold (SAU) is the latest to expand its exploration holdings, securing three new exploration licenses in the Lake Torrens and Streaky Bay areas covering almost 2500sq km. It is now assessing targets for follow-up drill testing.
